Senate yesterday afternoon.

"In my judgment," said he, "if such a bill becomes a law, the discipline of the torce will be absolutely eliminated from politics, and in a very short time would be elevated to a very high standard, higher than it has ever reached before.

"The bill embraces all the qualifications necessary for perfect discipline. Under it there would be a sure and speedy punishment for all violations of the rules and improper conduct, and the Superintendent of Police could then be justly held accountable for the discipline of the force.

"I believe the trial by court-martial composed of policemen, as provided for in this bill, to be proper. Police officers would then be tried by men who have a practical knowledge of what police duty is, and adequate punishment would surely be meted out to offending members.

Mayor to-day to complain of the treatment patients receive there. He brought with him two slices of bread that was as dry and hard as a goat's horn and a small bottle of "coffee" made of chicory
and cocoa shells, with a can of mush
that he said constituted the breakfast
of the immates.

He asked the Mayor to taste the "coffee," but Col. Strong declined with thanks. When the Mayor heard the story and examined the food he wrote a letter to the Hoart of Health to make an investigation of the character of the food served on the island. GARDEN TRILBY Two alleged disorderly houses were raided last night by Patrolmen Eggers and McDonough, of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station, at 222 East Ninety-seventh afreet and 312 East One Hundred and Seventh afreet, Annie Moore, colored, and Maggie Smith, reputed proprietors, were arrasied. Six other women and three men were made prisoners.
